This sweet, savory, and satisfying novelâ€™ perfect for fans of The Coincidence of Coconut Cake by Amy Reichertâ€™ follows a smart, ambitious woman making her way in the male-dominated world of beer brewing.

Piper Williams is used to being the only woman in a room full of men, but she isnâ€™t used to being instantly drawn to someone sheâ€™s in business with. After working long hours brewing in her garage, Piper is determined to prove herselfâ€™ and to ignore the chemistry she has with Blake Reed, owner of Minnesotaâ€™s newest gastropub who is going to stock four of her brews. She wants her craft beer to stand on its own merits and knows that the tight-knit male-dominated brewer community will assume the worst if she starts anything with one of her vendors. No way sheâ€™ll risk everything sheâ€™s invested in her budding business on a guy who might not stickâ€™ no matter how charmingly handsome and funny he is, right?

And Blake has a conflict of his ownâ€™ his haughty family wants him to ditch the gastropub and support his fatherâ€™s political campaign. Well, that, and the fact that he knows Piperâ€™s snark and sass is the perfect blend of crisp and refreshing for him. So Blake and Piper make a pact: sheâ€™ll go out with him if, and only if, two additional pubs start carrying her beer. Sticking to the pact proves harder than either of them expectedâ€™ especially since the attraction is off the charts between quirky, independent Piper and smart, charming Blake.

Then Piper gets a once-in-a-lifetime offer that could launch her company to the next levelâ€™ and take her away from Blake. Are she and Blake just drunk in love, or do they have something real thatâ€™s worth risking her dreams for?
